

£1.02 million research funding awarded for robotic chemist project

Dstl (Defence Science and Technology Laboratory) is pioneering the use of autonomous mobile robotics within the scientific research laboratory.