

15-minute observation period after vaccine temporarily suspended to speed up booster rollout

The move aims to help accelerate the booster programme and get jabs in arms more quickly in light of rising cases of Omicron