

£1m project to bring boost for wildlife and water quality starts

Work on a project to restore wetland habitat opens up 55km of river for fish and improve community access at a Tees Valley country park will start this week.