

£2.8 million awarded to fund projects by British and Israeli scientists

The projects will be awarded the funds from BIRAX, a £10 million programme to support cutting edge UK-Israeli research.