

£250 million government funding to upgrade London's transport system

Ministers and Transport for London (TfL) agree £250 million in government funding to upgrade London's transport system.