

£274-million training boost for RAF

Pilots and engineers who operate the UK's C-17 Globemaster aircraft are to benefit from world-leading interactive training, following a £274-million contract award.