

£31m committed to protect democratic process

£31 million of new funding to protect democratic processes and enhance security measures for elected representatives.