

£70 million funding to secure UK position as a world-leader in quantum technology

The government has announced 38 new UK projects that will benefit from more than £70 million government investment to help mark the start of Quantum Tech Digital Week.