welters® Black Galloway Heritage Herd

Registered with the Black Galloway Cattle Society

The establishment of the welters® 'Heritage' Pedigree Herd of Galloway cattle is and will continue to be one of the enduring and most rewarding aspects of the Land Based enterprises. The Genetic design of the Native Scottish outlying breed with countless benefits was in danger of diminishment.

The 'Heritage' Herd has Gene design from the finest Global Pedigrees to protect and perpetuate the finest Scottish Native breed which thrives on the hill land, heathland herbs and water meadows of our diverse landscapes.

The Galloway is one of the oldest and purest of our native cattle breeds. They are famed for their hardiness and can live off the poorest of land. The Galloway female is the ideal suckler cow and will produce an excellent beefy calf which is in great demand by people requiring the highest quality, natural grown beef. Galloway Cattle have a great deal to offer and will fit into any agricultural system, either a traditional hill farm or low land management plan. Galloway popularity is growing due to the increased interest in British Native breeds and environmental issues.

welters® White Galloway Heritage Herd

Registered with the Belted Galloway Cattle Society

The White Galloway Heritage herd is a fairly recent addition to welters® agricultural programmes. As part of their commitment to protecting native species and resources in the UK the White Galloway has a heritage that stretches back to the white wild cattle of ancient Britain.

The colour pattern of the White Galloway is mostly white, with its colour restricted to its ears, feet, and around its eyes. They will also often have colour on their poll, tail, and udder. The White Galloway breed originates from the Wild White cattle of ancient Britain.

The Galloway is naturally hornless, and instead of horns has a bone knob at the top of its skull that is called a poll. This breed's shaggy coat has both a thick, woolly undercoat for warmth and stiffer guard hairs that help shed water, making them well adapted to harsher climates.

welters® Galloway herds of Whithaugh forms part of their mission and drive for research and development in the protection of native species and natural resources.

welters® Whitebred Shorthorn Heritage Herd

Registered with the Whitebred Shorthorn Association

Whitebred Shorthorn cattle are on the Rare Breeds Survival Trust (RBST) watch list and welters® have been working with the RBST to source pedigree heifers as part of their Selective Breeding Programme

welters®

ORGANISATION

Design and Innovation

Whitebred Shorthorn can be found mainly in the borders of Scotland and England. Bulls are bred primarily as a crossing bull and traditionally crossed with Galloway heifers to produce the Blue Grey, which is recognised as a pedigree in itself.

The Whitebred Shorthorn bull is being used to cross with selected Black Galloways to establish a Blue Grey herd. The new heifers will also be used to produce new bulls that will further enhance the genetic stock to ensure a hardy and healthy herd well suited to the Border conditions.

The Blue Grey cattle produced by the cross breeding is a 1st generation hybrid and although recognised as a breed, are not usually able to sustain the blue grey colour into 2nd generation. In order for the breed to be preserved, the Whitebred Shorthorn and the Black Galloway must be maintained separately.
