

A Britain secure at home and strong abroad – UK defence a key focus during King's Speech

The King's Speech announces the Armed Forces Commissioner who will be a strong, independent champion to improve life for UK service personnel and their families, while the Government reinforces the UK's unshakeable comm...