

A date for your dairy

The increasingly important role played by state-of-the-art technology in Scotland's dairy industry will be explored in a special open farm event in Dumfries.