

A female police constable preliminarily tested positive for COVID-19

A 34-year-old female Police Constable who is posted to the Licensing Office Sub-unit of Mong Kok District received Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19) test earlier and was preliminarily tested positive yesterday (Mar 12). She has no travel history and did not go to work over past 14 days. Her last working day was February 22 and she started maternity leave since then.

The Police are highly concerned and will arrange all Police officers and civilian staff who might have been in contact with the officer concerned to undergo COVID-19 test before further assessment by the Department of Health (DH).

Police will maintain close communication with the DH. Arrangements will be made for close contacts to be conveyed to quarantine centres to undergo quarantine.
