

A hub for smart manufacturing

The Advanced Manufacturing Centre (AMC) at the Tseung Kwan O InnoPark is a world-class, purpose-built advanced manufacturing base. Opened in early 2022, the response from the industry to the AMC, the first of its kind in Hong Kong, has been favourable. As announced in the Policy Address, the Government will explore construction of a second AMC to promote new industrialisation.

News.gov.hk spoke to the Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks Corporation and an aerospace technology company to find out how enterprises can benefit from setting up their manufacturing processes in the AMC.
