

A new space to build great ideas

A smart living and co-creation space InnoCell, opened this year, brings together Mainland and overseas innovation and technology (I&T) talent to live, co-create and innovate to generate economic benefits to the city.

News.gov.hk spoke to two InnoCell tenants and the Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks Corporation Chief Project Development Officer to learn more about how the new purpose-built space provides the ideal environment for I&T talent to forge a thriving community.

The story is available at www.news.gov.hk/eng/feature today (August 22) in text and video format.