

Active ageing with technology

Nominated by the Chief Executive's Community Project List, Lingnan University has received a $20 million donation from the Jockey Club to carry out a three-year gerontechnology and smart ageing project.

News.gov.hk spoke to Lingnan University's Asia-Pacific Institute of Ageing Studies Project Manager and other stakeholders to learn how the featured programmes are helping seniors to live more active and independent lives.

The story appears on news.gov.hk on October 27 in text and video format.