

Advocate General for Scotland, Catherine Smith KC, sworn in

Appointment marks the first time Scotland's three law officers have all been female