

AI innovators to fuel UK's clean energy future as new competition launches

The second round of the Manchester Prize will focus on delivering new, clean energy systems.