

AI to reduce train delays, speed up NHS prescriptions and train construction workers gets £32 million boost

Government unveils AI projects to improve productivity and public services supported by a share of £32 million.