

An extra £60 million for adult social care over January 2022

The government is providing an additional £60 million to local authorities to support the adult social care response to COVID-19 in January