

Apply to the Attorney General's Civil Panel Counsel – Regional A, B and C Panels

The Attorney General is seeking to appoint new members to three of her panels of junior counsel, the Regional A, B and C Panels, to undertake civil work for government departments.

Membership of the Regional Panels is open to both barristers and solicitors with the appropriate qualifications.

Regional A Panel

Members of this Panel deal with the most complex Government cases in all kinds of courts and tribunals. Those previously appointed to the A Panel have generally had in excess of 10 years advocacy experience in actual practice (from end of 2nd six months' pupillage for barristers, date of commencement of advocacy for solicitors).

Regional B Panel

Members of this Panel deal with substantial cases but not in general as complex as those handled by the A Panel. They will generally be instructed where knowledge and experience of a particular field is required. Those previously appointed to the B Panel have generally had between 5 and 10 years advocacy experience in actual practice (from end of 2nd six months' pupillage for barristers, date of commencement of advocacy for solicitors).

Those appointed to the C Panel will often (but not exclusively) provide the A and B Panel members of the future and so should have the potential to join the A Panel.

In choosing which of the panels to apply to, candidates will want to make a careful decision based on which best suits their level of expertise and experience.
