

Appointments to industry advisory committees to advise Insurance Authority

The Government announced today (May 25) the appointments to two industry advisory committees (IACs) to advise the Insurance Authority (IA) on industry-related issues.

The two IACs focus on long-term business and general business. The Financial Secretary has reappointed and appointed 12 non-official members to each IAC for a term of two years from June 1, 2018, to May 31, 2020.

The Secretary for Financial Services and the Treasury, Mr James Lau, said, "Members of the two IACs have expertise in different lines of insurance business and some come from related fields such as consumer protection, accounting, insurance law and compliance, academia and banking. Their diverse backgrounds will provide the IA with valuable advice on various matters pertaining to the development of the insurance industry."

The IACs are statutory committees established on June 1, 2016, under the Insurance Ordinance (Cap. 41), which stipulates that other than the chairperson, the chief executive officer and not more than two other executive directors of the IA, members of an IAC should include not less than eight but not more than 12 other persons with knowledge of or experience in the insurance industry, the conduct of regulated activities and consumer affairs. They are appointed by the Financial Secretary after consultation with the IA.

The IA, a statutory body established by the Ordinance, is a new insurance regulator independent of the Government. On June 26, 2017, the IA took over the statutory functions of the former Office of the Commissioner of Insurance on the regulation of insurance companies. It plans to take over the regulation of insurance intermediaries from the three Self-Regulatory Organisations and administer a statutory licensing regime for insurance intermediaries by mid-2019.
