

Armed Forces make major changes to end HIV being a barrier to service

A number of changes that will make it easier for people with HIV to pursue a career in the Armed Forces have been announced on World AIDS Day.