

Artificial Intelligence and Public Standards: Committee publishes report

The Committee on Standards in Public Life today published its report on artificial intelligence and its impact on public standards.