

Australia funds back British economy with major moves to the UK

A further billion pounds of investment will be injected into the British economy as the Prime Minister continues his drive to attract foreign business back to the UK.