Debris and dead bodies clutter flood- hit Libyan port

DERNA, Libya: Libya's devastating flood has transformed Derna from a busy port welcoming fishing boats and ships loaded with goods and passengers into a dump brimming with rubble, car wrecks and dead bodies.

Tugboat captain Ali Al-Mismari, 60, recalled the night of September 10 when torrential rains caused by Storm Daniel battered the eastern Libyan city, bursting two dams and wiping out entire neighborhoods.

At first, Mismari told AFP, he wanted to take his boat, the "Irasa," out of the harbor to avoid putting the crew at risk and to avoid damage to the vessel.

Libya's flood-hit Derna to host reconstruction conference: authorities

BENGHAZI, Libya: Libya's eastern-based administration said on Friday that it would host an international conference next month in the flood-hit port city of Derna to aid reconstruction efforts.

A tsunami-sized flash flood broke through two aging dams upstream from Derna after a hurricane-strength storm lashed the area on September 10, razing entire neighborhoods and sweeping thousands of people into the sea.

Turkish police detain 10 accused of Daesh links, minister says

ANKARA: Turkish police detained 10 people believed to be linked to Daesh and have arrested five of them, Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said on Friday. Yerlikaya said Turkiye's MIT intelligence agency, police, and counterterrorism squads carried out an operation in the western coastal city of Izmir after intelligence showed the suspects had hidden supplies in the city. The authorities discovered explosive gels, materials used to make explosives, as well as weapons and ammunition hidden in the mountainous region of Izmir's Bornova district, Yerlikaya added.

US embassy in Lebanon 'not intimidated' by shots fired toward it - ambassador

BEIRUT: US ambassador to Lebanon Dorothy Shea on Friday said the embassy was "not intimidated" by a gunman's shots toward its entrance earlier this week and that Lebanese authorities were investigating the incident.

Late Wednesday, shots were fired near the US embassy north of Beirut. Embassy spokesperson Jake Nelson said no one had been hurt and normal business operations were ongoing.

Mideast 'on cusp of historic peace': Israeli PM

NEW YORK: The Middle East is "on the cusp of a historic peace," Israel's prime minister said on Friday, referring to US-brokered efforts to normalize relations with Saudi Arabia.

Addressing the 78th session of the UN General Assembly, Benjamin Netanyahu said he believes Israel and Saudi Arabia are close to a "dramatic breakthrough" that would not only secure peace between the two states but "transform" the entire region and create "a new Middle East."
