

Half a million more benefit claimants set to benefit from back to work support as Universal Credit expands

Half a million people claiming old benefits will be invited to claim Universal Credit, unlocking all the work support it offers.

Foreign Secretary's speech at RUSI's 'NATO at 75' Conference

Foreign Secretary David Cameron's speech at RUSI's 'NATO at 75' Conference in Brussels

Government reaffirms commitment to backing pensioners with £900 rise to state pension

The State Pension is increasing by 8.5 percent today as part of the Government's commitment to support pensioners in retirement.

DVLA adds 2 more services to its Driver and vehicles account service

Motorists can now renew their photocard driving licence and apply for a first provisional licence through their account.

Regulator disqualifies charity trustee after speeches promoting religious violence

The Charity Commission has concluded that a former trustee of the Charr Yarr Welfare Foundation Limited was involved in extremist activity