

Lord Mayor's Defence and Security Speech – Thursday 10 June 2021

Chief of the General Staff, General Sir Mark Carleton-Smith, delivered the 2021 Annual Defence and Security Lecture at the Mansion House.

New explosive door-breaching technology brought to market

The design for a safer and more effective way to breach doors is based on research by Dstl and has been licensed to a specialist UK company.

Supercharging science: an open letter from Dstl chief executive

Science lab urges best minds in industry, academia, engineering, science, and technology to work with UK specialists to combat future threats.

Ben Wallace is first ever UK Defence Secretary to visit Serbia

Mr Wallace's visit marks a development in the UK-Serbia defence relationship as the two countries agreed to expand defence engagement.

Lt Gen Richard Nugee opens Nesscliff NetCAP buildings

Brand new net-zero carbon smart buildings have been officially opened at Nesscliff Training Camp.