

Defence Secretary Ben Wallace gives a speech to the Atlantic Council

Defence Secretary Ben Wallace outlines the importance of helping to stabilise fragile states

£2.5m investment in XL autonomous submarine development

The first extra-large autonomous test submarine will be developed for the Royal Navy following a new contract by the Defence and Security Accelerator (DASA).

MOD leads cross-government review into the UK's defence and security industrial strategy

A review that will revitalise the UK's defence and security industrial sectors and improve productivity has been launched.

Defence Minister visits vital work being conducted by troops in Cyprus

In his first visit to troops deployed overseas, Minister for the Armed Forces James Heappey visited troops stationed on the Sovereign Base Area (SBA) in Cyprus.

DASA seeks innovative ideas to mitigate radar risk of windfarms

£2m innovation competition to reduce and remove impact windfarms have on UK's Air Defence systems to boost green energy growth