Commission welcomes the entry into force of new rules to prevent tax evasion and money laundering

The Commission has welcomed the entry into force of new rules obliging Member States to give tax authorities access to data collected under anti-money laundering legislation. As of 1 January 2018, national tax authorities will have direct access to information on the beneficial owners of companies, trusts and other entities, as well as customer due diligence records of companies. The new arrangements should give a major boost to tax authorities in the fight against the types of structures highlighted in the 'Paradise Papers'. Pierre Moscovici, Commissioner for Economic and Financial Affairs, Taxation and Customs, said: "We want to give tax authorities crucial information on the individuals behind any company or trust. This is essential for them to be able to identify and clamp down on tax evaders. To do this, tax authorities will now have access to anti-money laundering information." The new amended rules, enshrined in the Directive on Administrative Cooperation (Directive 2011/16/EU), will give tax authorities much-needed access and enable them to react quickly and efficiently to cases of tax evasion and avoidance. Novel Food: new regulation adding to the food variety present on the EU market enters into force

The new Regulation on Novel Food is applicable from 1 January 2018. The regulation brings significant improvements and changes to the novel food authorisation procedure. It includes an expanded definition for novel food to account for innovation and technology advances in the food sector, a centralised EU-wide authorisation system of novel foods and of traditional foods from third countries, a list of all authorised novel foods in the EU, and data protection provisions for the applicants. European Commissioner for Health and Food Safety Vytenis Andriukaitis welcomed the new regulation: "These changes will make the process of authorising and placing novel food on the European market simpler, quicker and more applicant friendly, while fully ensuring food safety. We hope that this will add to the variety already present on the EU market of healthy, nutritious traditional and innovative foods." Before being authorised all novel foods must be scientifically proven to be safe to public health. The authorisation then sets out the conditions for their use, their designation as food and labelling requirements. For more information on the new Novel Food Regulation see here. Aides d'État: la Commission approuve un régime français d'aides d'État en faveur de l'infrastructure ferroviaire pour le transport de marchandises

La Commission a autorisé, en vertu des règles de l'UE relatives aux aides d'État, un régime d'aides français en faveur de la création et de la modernisation d'installations terminales embranchées (ITE). Le régime est doté d'un budget global de 60 millions d'euros avec l'aide prenant la forme de subventions non remboursables. L'objet du régime est de soutenir le financement partiel de la construction, de la rénovation, de l'extension et de la remise en service d'embranchements ferroviaires privés pour le transport de marchandises. Une installation terminale embranchée privée est une voie ferrée dont le propriétaire est une entreprise commerciale, qui l'utilise pour distribuer ou réceptionner des chargements. Les embranchements ferroviaires permettent la desserte ferroviaire directe des sites d'activité économique et évitent les ruptures de charges qui se manifestent par un stockage temporaire ou un transbordement des marchandises sur un site intermédiaire. La Commission a estimé que la mesure favorise le transfert du fret de la route vers le rail, en accord avec les objectifs de la politique commune des transports visant à encourager les modes de transport moins polluant. Par conséquent, la Commission a conclu que la mesure respecte la réglementation de l'UE en matière d'aides d'État. Plus d'informations seront disponibles dans le registre des aides d'État sur le site internet de la DG Concurrence sous le numéro SA.48483. Jonathan Ashworth response to PM's comments on the NHS

Jonathan

Ashworth MP, Labour's Shadow Health Secretary, responding to the Prime Minister's comments about the NHS being 'better prepared for this winter', said:

“Yet again Theresa May reveals how entirely out of touch she is. Next, she will be trying to lecture patients that 'nothing has changed' for patients.

"The reality is we see hospitals at full capacity, ambulances backed up, cancelled operations and patients waiting for hours on trolleys.

"Instead of burying her head in the sand, Theresa May needs to explain why she has allowed underfunding and cuts to health and social care to continue. As Tory MP Sarah Wollaston said this morning, the Government needs to get a grip."

Gove must end agricultural land being used as a tax haven say Greens

Green Party

3 January 2018

Green Party MEP, Molly Scott Cato, is this week laying down a challenge to the Environment Secretary, Michael Gove, to end the use of agricultural land as a tax haven and tax shelter.

Molly, who sits on the European Parliament's Agriculture Committee, will speak at the Oxford Real Farming Conference (ORFC) this week [1], which will also be attended by Mr Gove. He will be the first Defra secretary to take to the stage at this alternative farming event which runs parallel to the long-established Oxford Farming Conference (OFC) [2].

Ahead of her speech at ORFC [4], Molly Scott Cato said:

"Gove must call time on the UKs largest land owners who are using agricultural land to hide and shelter their wealth. Agricultural land offers generous tax breaks as it is exempt from inheritance tax after two years if it is actively farmed. The fact that the sale of a farming asset can be rolled over into a new business or acquisition offers further tax relief."

Last summer Michael Gove said that post-Brexit farm subsidies will be based on measures to protect the environment and enhance rural life, rather than on the amount of land farmers own [3]. But Dr Scott Cato says the Environment Secretary must go much further:

"Using land as a tax shelter undermines its productive use. Land banking and earning an income from land assets also encourages a rentier economy and stifles innovation. If Michael Gove is to bring about genuine radical reform he will need to challenge the large land owners. Nobody can seriously suggest that we should be subsidising set ups like that of international racehorse breeders Juddmonte Farms which is owned by Prince Khalid Abdullah of Saudi Arabia.

"Significant taxation of estates and the abolition of inheritance relief could bring more land back into the market, reduce concentration of ownership and make land available to those who want to farm. We also need to take back control of our land so it can perform vital social and environmental functions especially to act as a carbon sink and to decrease the threat of flooding.”
