

Toilets closed – sorry for the inconvenience

The closure of public toilets during the coronavirus pandemic has caused great inconvenience – particularly in rural areas.

---

Scots farmers pessimistic over Brexit

The new analysis found differences in the farm population which drive outlooks on Brexit

---

Virtual meeting offers online tours of innovative Canola plots

An online meeting will give an update of an innovative project exploring the possibility of growing organic oilseed rape (Canola) in Scotland.

---

Plant sale raises cash for charity

Horticultural staff at Scotland's Rural College have raised £1,250 for Fife charities from the sale of plants grown on the Elmwood campus.

---

'Listening' to chicks could improve welfare

'Listening' to baby chicks' calls could help identify welfare problems at an early stage, according to new research involving SRUC.