

Awards inspire innovative teaching

With the Chief Executive's Awards for Teaching Excellence honouring over 950 teachers since their introduction, two new award categories have been added in the current round of nominations to further promote innovative teaching methods.

News.gov.hk spoke to two award recipients to learn more about how their approaches enrich students' learning experiences, while a representative of the Education Bureau outlined the purpose of the awards.

The story is available at www.news.gov.hk/eng/feature today (September 22) in text and video format.