

Better broadband for 500,000 rural homes in UK gigabit revolution

More than 500,000 more rural homes and businesses will be given access to better broadband under plans to level up the UK with improved internet connectivity.