

Biotech driving medical breakthroughs and cuts to red tape lead major science and tech package to spark UK innovation and growth

Science and Technology Secretary Michelle Donelan set out the importance of the UK's mission to be a science and technology superpower.