

Bird flu found in mammals in the sub-Antarctic for the first time

Results confirm High Pathogenicity Avian Influenza (HPAI) has been found in elephant and fur seals on the sub-Antarctic island of South Georgia.