

Bold new TV advert lifts the lid on real and 'extraordinary' work of prison and probation officers

The Ministry of Justice has launched a major new advertising campaign to tackle recruitment and retention, by showing the reality of life as prison and probation officers.