

Boost for electric vans and buses backed with investment to drive innovation

The government has announced £88 million of funding has been awarded to 46 innovative projects that will help boost zero emission vehicle tech.