

British troops thanked for defending Polish airspace as successful air defence deployment concludes

The operation has concluded after more than two years of successfully protecting Polish airspace.