

Building control changes for higher-risk buildings and wider changes to building regulations

This circular letter draws attention to the building control process for higher-risk buildings and wider changes to building regulations.