

Burdensome legislation withdrawn in latest move to cut red tape for businesses

The Government has withdrawn draft regulations after consultation with companies raised concerns about imposing additional reporting requirements.