

Business "ready to support" UK with £500m investment following Chancellor's first budget

US firm confirms £500m investment in biomedical research, supporting government's plan to attract private investment and grow the UK economy.