

“Celebration of National Day – The Next Generation Chorus Performance” to be held on September 30

â€œTo celebrate the 75th anniversary of the founding of the People's Republic of China, "Celebration of National Day – The Next Generation Chorus Performance" organised by the Tourism Commission, with East Union Foundation Limited as an implementing organisation, will be held in Art Park of the West Kowloon Cultural District (WKCD) from 8.30pm to 9.10pm on September 30 (Monday).

The show will cover a wide array of performances, including a drone show with 2 099 drones symbolising "2024" in the year of 2024 and "75" from the 75th National Day, 1 000 students singing patriotic songs on site, and performances by multiple youth groups. The show will showcase the country's achievements through three themes, namely "Standing Up", "Growing Prosperous", and "Becoming Strong". In addition, Ms Cally Kwong will sing the patriotic education theme song "Our Home".

Due to space constraints, members of the public may enjoy the drone show from certain parts of the lawn areas in the WKCD. As there may be a restricted view of the drone show in some other areas in the WKCD, members of the public may also enjoy the show on TV screens at designated viewing areas (map enclosed). Participants are advised to use public transport and avoid driving private cars to the vicinity of the WKCD whenever possible. During the show, they should keep public areas clean and take care of public property. Participants are also advised to pay attention to safety in crowded places.

RTHK TV 32, China Central Television, HOY TV, Now TV, Phoenix TV, TVB, ViuTV will live broadcast the show, and members of the public can enjoy the show at home to celebrate National Day.

As the event may be affected by weather conditions, participants should pay attention to public announcements on the event day to obtain the latest information of the event.
