

Chancellor announces new plans to secure UK investment

The Chancellor closes the International Investment Summit promising the government is bringing investment and jobs back to Britain.