

Change of UK Permanent Representative to the OECD

Press release

Ms Natacha Alexander has been appointed as the next UK Permanent Representative to the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD).

Ms Natacha Alexander has been appointed as the next UK Permanent Representative to the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) in Paris in succession to Mr Chris Sharrock. Ms Alexander will hold the personal rank of Ambassador and is due to take up her appointment during June 2021.

Full name: Natacha Alexander

Married to: Benjamin Saoul

Children: Three

2018 to 2020	Her Majesty's Treasury (HM Treasury), Deputy Director, Office of Financial Sanctions Implementation
2015 to 2017	HM Treasury, Deputy Director, Europe Strategy and Engagement
2012 to 2015	Office of the Quartet Representative in Jerusalem, Senior Advisor to Quartet Representative, Mr Tony Blair
2011 to 2012	Department for International Development (DFID), Deputy Head, Libya Crisis Unit
2009 to 2011	DFID, Deputy Head, Global Partnerships Department
2008 to 2009	DFID, Head, Iraq Policy and Communications, Iraq Programme Department
2007 to 2008	HM Treasury, Head, International Financial Crime and Corruption, Financial Crime Team
2006 to 2007	HM Treasury, Head, Global Trade Policy Branch, EU Coordination and Strategy Team

2004 to Brussels, Second Secretary – Economic, UK Permanent
2006 Representation to the EU

2003 to HM Treasury, Policy Analyst, Debt and Reserves Management 2004

Published 26 April 2021