

Charity regulator finds repeated and significant failings at former Birmingham school

Albayan Education Foundation is also criticised for failures around overseas aid work.