

Children around the world enjoy British-made gifts this Christmas

Latest figures show toy and bike exports are worth £640 million, with CPTPP membership to make it even easier for British businesses to export children's presents to the region next Christmas.