

Chinese people reflect on 5 years of improvement since 18th CPC National Congress (1)

“The people’s longing for a good life is what we are fighting for,” Xi Jinping declared when new CPC leaders met the press in November, 2012.

Over the past five years, the CPC Central Committee with Xi Jinping as the core has taken numerous measures to ensure and improve people’s livelihood. What changes have these measures brought about in people’s lives? What aspirations do they have? Let’s hear the voice of the people.