

Christmas booze ban for record number of offenders

Around 3,800 offenders either released from prison or serving a community sentence will wear an alcohol tag over Christmas and New Year.