

Civil Service Coffee Connect

News story

Civil Service Coffee Connect is a networking scheme that encourages conversations, emphasising shared ambitions, interests and experience.

With so many of us now working from home, Civil Service Coffee Connect is a great way to boost wellbeing and create new connections. Networking empowers a sense of community and wider belonging. On the face of it, meeting someone new once a month for a quick chat doesn't sound like much, but cumulatively, over time, it helps to create a larger network of friendly contacts who can help, support and advise you.
