

Climate emergency debated on the Tyne

Leading organisations from across the north east meet to discuss the impact on people, communities and wildlife