

CMA and trade bodies' joint statement against price gouging

This joint warning comes as the CMA and various trade associations remain concerned that some retailers have been raising prices unfairly.